The American Geriatrics Society and the National Council of State Emergency Medical Services Training Coordinators are pleased to bring you Geriatric Education for Emergency Medical Services (GEMS), a national continuing education curriculum. The exciting new program is the first of its kind - designed specifically for First Responders, EMTs, Paramedics, and any other emergency care provider.

The GEMS course is innovative, comprehensive, and highly visual with:

• Case-Based Lectures – The GEMS lectures cover the most important points that need to be emphasized. This is done through the use of case studies, which start students thinking about how they would treat a similar case in the field.

• Live Action Video – Containing real-life footage from the field, these clips illustrate the skills covered in the GEMS course.

• Hands-on Skill Stations – The GEMS Skill Stations are an important part of helping students practice the hands-on aspects of what they will learn by reading the textbook, listening to the lectures, and watching the GEMS video.

• Small Group Scenarios – The scenarios help students apply information from all aspects of the GEMS course.

RSVP REQUIRED
